

JOHN D. IGLESIAS PRESIDENT AND CEO, GROUP HEALTH CREDIT UNION

John Iglesias serves as the President and Chief Executive Officer of Group Health Credit Union (GHCU), one of Washington State's largest credit unions with nearly $280 million in assets and serving approximately 30,000 members.

Iglesias brings extensive knowledge and experience from the banking and credit union industries to GHCU. Prior to assuming the CEO role at GHCU in February 2008, Iglesias was Senior Vice President and Chief Lending Officer at Washington State Employees' Credit Union (WSECU).

Prior to WSECU, Iglesias served as the Consumer Loan Product Manager and Indirect Lending Manager at Boeing Employees' Credit Union (BECU), where he managed the credit union's consumer loan products. He gained additional banking, marketing and operational expertise with Bank of America in Seattle in the 1990s.

Iglesias holds a BS in Education from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and an MBA from Saint Martin's University. He is a graduate of the Credit Union Executive Society (CUES) Executive Leadership Institute where he received his designation as a Certified Chief Executive. He has been recognized by CUES in 2006 as a "Rising 100" award winner.

Iglesias joined the Air Force in 1983 and currently serves in the Navy Reserves as an Intelligence Officer, previously assigned to Carrier Air Wing 5 on board the USS Kitty Hawk. Iglesias is also on the board of directors of Washington Business Week. He lives in Tukwila, WA with his wife and daughter.
